COMING PROSPERITY.

It would seem from the extensive strikes in progress at several places in the East that the era of prosperity that our neighbors on the other side have enjoyed so long is drawing to a close. It appears from the returns of clearing houses that business is falling off rapidly in all the great centers of commercial and industrial activity which, connected with the strike that have been inaugurated this Spring, indicate hard times. The tidal wave of the flush times on the Atlantic seaboard did not reach the Pacific coast. While all through the East money was plentiful and freely thrown into the market, the Pacific States, especially California and Nevada, were suffering a depression in all branches of business. The strings of the money-bags were tightly drawn; poor crops from the effects of drought and grasshoppers; the depression on the Comstock; Kearney's political soap bubble, and the fight in California over the new constitution—all had its effect. It seemed fate was against us. It may be that the scales of prosperity are tipping our way now. The political battlefield in California has been cleared of the dead and wounded; the new Constitution has been adopted, tried and found to work well; the crop prospects have never looked better in many sections of the country than now; the people are recovering from a speculative debauch and turning their attention to legitimate pursuits, giving the farm more attention than ever before, and, instead of recklessly throwing their hard earnings into a stock gamble are trying to make their bread by the sweat of their brow. The banks are full of money seeking investment in something besides collateral security, which gives all who are turning their attention to legitimate business a chance to do something for themselves and at the same time build up the country on a substantial foundation. Waste land is being reclaimed and improved to a degree that adds wealth to the country, and is always valuable. The mines are managed more economically and their products are being used for legitimate purposes. In fact, every industry is carried on upon business principles instead of in that wild, reckless manner too long the custom. Let us continue in the way we are going and good times are sure to come.

The President nominated Rollin M. Daggett United States Minister to the Hawaiian Islands to-day. Mr. Daggett was supposed to have been an avowed candidate for gubernatorial honors. It is hard to tell how many strings Daggett has got to his political fiddle, but time will solve the problem.

A convention of Greenbackers met at Nashville, Tenn., yesterday and nominated J. R. Bassley for Governor. The platform of 1880, adopted at Chicago was reaffirmed.

Hewitt Chandler, the leader among Shakers at New Gloucester, Maine, quietly proceeded to Boston with Mary H. Grant, where a clergyman made them one.

A St. Petersburg special says: The Empress was safely delivered of a child this morning. The child will be named Olla. The public buildings are decked with flags in honor of the event.

Democratic Figures.

WASHINGTON, June 13.

Since the Republican majority in the House of Representatives unseated three Southern Democrats, who claimed to have been elected, reports have reached Democratic managers here of great discouragement among Southern Democrats. The feeling seemed to be that if the Republicans obtained a majority in the next House they would proceed to unseat every Southern Democrat whose seat was contested, and the consequence would be that candidates, in close districts, could see very little encouragement for them to make the Congressional race. These reports excited no little apprehension here and, after conferring together, the Southern members determined to make a thorough canvass for the purpose of ascertaining, if possible, what the political complexion of the next House would probably be. Two of the members have made this canvass within a few days and, as the result of their inquiries, they have figured out a Democratic majority of ten in the next House. They reach this conclusion by counting on sure gains as follows: In Connecticut, South Carolina, Illinois, West Virginia, Mississippi and California, one each; in Texas and Pennsylvania, five each; in Indiana and Ohio, three each; in New York, two; and Missouri, four. They expect to make other gains in such States as Massachusetts, Maine and New Hampshire, but these do not enter into the figures on which they base a probable majority of ten. The only State in which they expect a loss is Nevada, and they think the chances are that they will lose the one representative there. The results, as reached by these gentleman, with figures as given above, have been sent to the various State Executive Committees in the South, in the hope of restoring confidence in that section.

The Tariff Commission.

WASHINGTON, June 13.

It is expected the Cabinet will to-day agree upon the gentlemen to serve as members of the Tariff Commission, in place of Wheeler, of New York and Phelps of Missouri, who have declined. There is a great deal of grumbling at the delay that has already occurred in choosing Commissioners, who should have been at work before the present time. It is thought the President will act in the matter this week. It is reported that Samuel Hines, of the firm of Graham & Hines, hardware merchants of New York, will have Mr. Wheeler's place, and the names of various old disappointed candidates for appointment are mentioned as likely to succeed Mr. Phelps. The President said last night that no decision had been reached. The Senate in Executive session to-day decided to consider the nominations in secret session and Mr. Van Wyck's resolution to consider the nominations with open doors was defeated by a vote of 10 to 16. This vote is an indication of the way the Senate stands on the question. The majority will be small and some of the Democrats cherish the hope that they will be able to defeat the nominees. Senator Jonas of Louisiana, says his position in the matter has been grossly misrepresented. He was reported as pledged to vote for the confirmation of the Commission because he had recommended the appointment of Mr. Kenner. "I look," he said, "upon the Commission as a whole as a packed and misrepresentative body, and if I am called to vote on the confirmation of its members, as a unit, I shall vote against their confirmation. On an individual vote I should favor the confirmation of Mr. Kenner. I do not regard the others with any favor."

None of Them any Too Bright.

CHICAGO, June 13.

An Atchison, Kansas special says: James McHohn, a section hand under E. L. Decearn, working 30 miles below Las Vegas, being considered a half-witted fellow, was mercilessly tormented and ridiculed by his companions. He threatened, unless the abuse ceased, to kill somebody and eventually did shoot John Groves, the leader, killing him instantly. The section-men thereupon seized McHohn and taking him to the station, hoisted him on a cross-beam with a rope about his neck and let him drop 12 feet. The Coroner's jury exonerated all parties.

The Strikers.

PITTSBURG, June 13.

All quiet. President Jarret, now in St. Louis, is of the opinion that the Western mills will soon be in operation. The Appollo iron works will resume Wednesday with Union men. The coal miners of the Baltimore and Ohio road declined to mine coal for the East for less than four cents, because they found coal mined for that section at three and a half cents was being shipped West.

Congressional-House.

WASHINGTON, June 13.

A joint resolution passed the House authorizing the Secretary of War to erect, at a cost of $10,000, a memorial column at Washington's head-quarters at Newburgh, N. Y., and appropriating $15,000 to aid in defraying the expenses of the celebration to be held there in 1883 on the centennial anniversary of the declaration of peace, and providing for the appointment of a select committee of five Senators and eight Representatives to make arrangements for the celebration.

Strike Ended.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 13.

The strike at the Wabash Iron Company's rolling mill in this city has ended and the men went to work this morning, the word "forever" being stricken from the contract. Pittsburgh prices will govern.

EVERYTHING QUIET AT CLEVELAND.

CLEVELAND, O., June 13.

More men than yesterday went to work this morning at the Cleveland rolling mills and two more departments started up. No violence was offered. No disturbance other than some shouting by some idlers in the street.

Unexpected Nominations.

WASHINGTON, June 13.

The President has nominated Samuel Baxtell, of Ohio, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico, and Rollin M. Daggett, of Nevada, United States Minister to the Hawaiian Islands.

Indications of Trouble.

CUMBERLAND, Md., June 12.

Last night bills, printed in German, were mysteriously distributed inside the police line at Eckhart, addressed to new miners by the Knights of Labor, asking the new men to stop work.

FOREIGN.

Preparing for War.

VIENNA, June 12.

The proposition to dispatch men-of-war to Alexandria to protect Austrian subjects is being considered. The Abend Post thinks events in Alexandria render military action, instead of diplomatic intervention, probable.

Arabs on the War Path.

ALEXANDRIA, June 13.

Europeans are leaving as fast as they can. The Consul has issued a proclamation exhorting Europeans to remain tranquil, and expressing confidence in the army to be able to maintain order. One hundred persons were killed in the riot Sunday. The position is a terrible one. Any small force or fleet that could land would only suffice to excite the Arabs to a general massacre. Dervish Pasha and Arab Pasha did not go to Alexandria as announced, but only sent aides-de-camp. There have been numerous assaults on Europeans by Arabs in Cairo.

WESTERN.

An Important Decision of Great Interest to Hydraulic Miners.

SACRAMENTO, June 13.

In the debris decision, after a lengthy consideration of the case, the court found: First—Plaintiff's action is not barred by the statute of limitation. Second—Defendant has acquired no right to use the beds of the American or Sacramento rivers as places of deposit for mining tailings. Third—Acts of defendant constitute a public nuisance and obstruct the free use of rivers by a considerable number of citizens of the slope. Fourth—Mining customs and usages authorized by statutes and by decrees of courts are local, and not intended to have any effect beyond mining in bar diggings. Fifth—Mining laws and customs as practiced are to adhere to and cannot protect defendants in the act complained of. Sixth—Plaintiff is entitled to a decree restraining defendant from dumping tailings into the American river or any of its tributaries. A decree follows the opinion and makes an injunction perpetual against defendant, subject to this condition—that defendant may at any time apply to this Court to have the decree modified or vacated, and whenever, upon such showing, it shall appear that different means have been provided to impound tailings, then defendants shall be entitled to have a decree to set aside the injunction.

Fatal Explosion.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.

A Portland dispatch says: By a premature blast to-day on the Oregon & California extension, three Chinamen and a foreman, Theophilus B. Berry, recently from South Maymouth, Mass., were killed.

Maine Republican Convention.

PORTLAND, Me., June 13.

The Republican State Convention met this morning and was called to order by Senator Frye. Frye was then nominated temporary chairman. Eugene Hale, who was received with much enthusiasm, said: "One of the largest conventions ever held in Maine attests the undying vigor of the glorious and stanch Republican party in the State. This campaign must end the contest." Governor, Congressmen, Senators and county officers are to be chosen. You do not want Governor Plaisted to be continued in his seat, but you want a distinguished and eloquent colleague to retain his seat in the Senate for six years more. (Great applause.) He believed the President was trying to bring all shades of the Republican party into accord. He has a difficult task, but discharges it wisely."

ROBIE NOMINATED GOVERNOR.

Colonel Robie was nominated Governor on the first ballot by 32 majority.

An Albany dispatch says: Successful observation of Well's comet was made at Dudley observatory yesterday and to-day, at meridian. The interesting fact was ascertained that this comet has a real nucleus.

Death's Mysteries.

John Free tells the Modoc Independent that several fine horses have died within the past few days in the vicinity of Canyon Creek, and the owners are at a loss to know the cause of their death. The animals all appeared fat and hearty, and suddenly laid down and died without manifesting any symptoms of disease. It is supposed by some that the animals were poisoned by some kind of weed, which is most likely the case.

PERILS OF THE LOWER LEVELS

Horrible Accident in the Union Consolidated Mine.

[From the Enterprise of June 13.]

Last evening about 7:30 o'clock a shocking blasting accident occurred in the face of south drift No. 2, on the 2700 level of the Union Consolidated mine. By the premature explosion of a blast (four holes are said to have exploded) two men were instantly killed, another so badly injured that he will probably die in a few hours, and a fourth peppered full of small fragments of rock.

THE KILLED.

Are John Black and James F. Brown. The former leaves a wife and two children, who reside in this city. His wounds are principally about the body. His face was not much disfigured.

The body of James F. Brown was torn all to pieces. The head was blown off and the limbs and trunk horribly mangled. He was unmarried, but has a brother in town and some other relatives on the Coast. He was a member of Virginia Lodge No. 10, I. O. O. F., under whose auspices his funeral will take place this afternoon, it being impossible to keep the body longer so badly it mangled.

The bodies were brought to town about an hour after the accident.

THE WOUNDED.

John Beargo received many cuts from flying rocks, the principal of which, and that likely to prove fatal, is on the left side of the head, just above and rather in front of the ear. The skull at this point was badly crushed and shattered. He lay in an unconscious condition from the time he was brought to the surface until about 9 o'clock, the physician expecting that he would die. He did not appear to feel the pain. Several pieces of broken bone were taken out, leaving a hole nearly four inches long by over two inches wide in the broadest part. It was found that the dura mater was broken and the brain exposed for nearly the whole length of the opening made in the skull.

After the pieces of bone were lifted from the brain, the doctors say, the wounded man seemed to recover consciousness to some extent. He muttered some words and tried to raise his head to look about. There is very little hope of his recovery.

Richard Hicks was completely peppered on the back with small fragments of rock that penetrated his flesh to a short distance. He bled copiously from these wounds, yet was able to walk to his home. The doctors took out of his flesh one piece of rock nearly as large as a hickory nut. He made a very narrow escape, as will be seen in the sequel.

HOW THE ACCIDENT OCCURRED.

Was not very well understood at the Union shaft last night. There were but the four men who have been mentioned above at work in the face of the drift at the time of the explosion. The explosion was not caused, as is usually the case, by attempting to clear out an old charge, nor yet while the drill was running.

A set of holes in the face of the drift, near the bottom, had been fired by the previous shift. These had not blown out the rock into which they penetrated, and were being charged a second time when the explosion occurred.

Richard Hicks and John Beargo had charged two holes on the west side of the drift and John Black and James Brown had charged those on the east side. As soon as the charging of the holes on the west side was finished, Hicks picked up the spoon used in scraping out drill-holes, the tamper bar and some other tools, and started to carry them outside of the bulkhead or shield that is placed across the drift to prevent the throwing and scattering of rock by the blasts.

He had almost reached this bulkhead when the explosion occurred. It appears that one hole exploded and that the concussion exploded three others.

A HORRIBLE SIGHT.

The men working in that part of the mine knew at once, when they heard the explosion, that an accident had occurred, and ran to the end of the drift with lights. Although the space between the end of the drift and the bulkhead was still filled with powder smoke, their candles shed sufficient light to allow of the bodies of the dead and wounded being seen.

Those who assisted in removing the bodies say it was a most shocking and sickening sight.

It was necessary to collect and roll up the remains of Brown in a piece of canvas, so terribly was the body torn and mangled.

Those who assisted in removing the bodies say it was a most shocking and sickening sight.

A well-known citizen staggered into Chase & Thyes last evening and relieved himself of the following information: I'm sick as hell, but I formed my wife that I was going to find her last glass of beer that I'll do it or bust tryin'. I've lost the north star, and got full as goose lookin' for it, but darn'd if I go home without goin' one eye on the comet. I'll stay here till sunrise if my cash holds out. Yer drinks are the boss, but if the ole lady known I was here she'd scoop me in on the coal-shovel sure. Come, boys!

Sheep in Lassen County.
The Lassen Advocate says: Sheep are coming into this county by thousands daily from Butte, Tehama and Colusa counties. P. Cronin and Harvey Crum were the first parties over the Red Bluff road. They encountered six feet of snow on the summit, which was soft and difficult to drive over. They have about 6,000 head of sheep, and are ranging in the vicinity of Mountain Meadows. The McCoy Bros., Bogard, Black, and others, have arrived at the Pine and Bridge creek ranges with their several bands, which number in all about 25,000 head. The Hat creek road from Red Bluff is lined with sheep that are being driven to Colorado and Texas.

The Lake House.
W. H. L. Knox is building up a good business at the Lake House. That old and popular hotel is one of the best in the State. The tables are second to none and guests are provided with everything usually found at a first-class hotel.

PICOCHE.

A Camp with the Usual Romantic History.

A correspondent of the Salt Lake Tribune tells the following interesting story of Picoco, at one time one of the most prosperous mining camps in the State:

The camp has had a romantic history, but of its 7,500 people 7,000 are now gone; the mines and mills are idle; and it is enough to give one the blues. Of its story many of your readers know more than I do. It can be seen, towns and mines, some miles away, perched on the northern slope of a quartzite mountain spur, which is capped with black lime, and dry as a powder horn. General Connor brought in water from the range of which the Picoco range is a spur. The Raymond and Ely has produced chiefly from a pay chute 200 feet long and extending only to the 900 level, $13,000,000; the Meadow Valley has produced $8,000,000; and other mines perhaps $2,000,000. The croppings are said to have been discovered and located by Mormons, and to have been relocated by Connor's soldiers, after overawing the Indians who drove away the Mormons. It was men from White Pine and Pahrangat, however, who in 1869 first made it of account. Uncle Billy Raymond, in debt at Pahrangat $70,000 or $80,000, brought a five-stamp mill to Bullionville, bought the Burke ground, upon which and other ground the Raymond and Ely Company was ultimately organized. It is said that the Bank of California at one time offered him $3,200,000 for 16,000 shares of the company stock (total shares then, 30,000). He declined (it was then selling at $180 and paying $7 a share in dividends monthly), and ultimately packed his blankets out of the camp, as he had packed them in. But he has not lost heart, and still expects to recuperate his fortunes at Pahrangat or in Arizona. Such is your genuine prospector, now a millionaire, now a pauper, always with a heart equal to any fate.

California and Oregon Wheat.

A San Francisco correspondent of Bradstreet's, under date of May 25th, gives the following opinion of the wheat crop in California and Oregon:

We have at least 250,000 acres in wheat in excess of last season's sowing, besides which the overflowed and low clay lands which yielded nothing in 1881 are now in full bearing. It may, however, be roughly stated that Summer fallow has done well everywhere, while Winter-sown wheat has been sown by the dry winds on the great valleys. It does not follow, however, that Winter-sown wheat is a total failure; but it certainly will not yield anything like a full average. Perhaps it might be safe to set it down as a half crop. This, however, is a great Summer fallow year, and California may safely be counted upon to yield a surplus of from 750,000 to 800,000 tons of wheat for shipment. This is a conservative estimate. Advices from Oregon and Washington Territory are favorable, although some allowance must be made for the effect of late frosts. About 30 per cent. in excess of last season's harvest would be a fair estimate.

Arrangements for the Fourth.
The Fourth of July committee of arrangements met last evening at the Justice's Court-room and selected the following ladies and gentlemen to assist in carrying out the programme: President of the Day, Gen. J. R. Kittrell; Chaplain, Rev. W. R. Jenvey; Reader of the Declaration of Independence, R. H. Lindsay; Drake's Address to the American Flag, Mrs. C. P. Powning; Reader of the poem, "The Enrobing of Liberty," Mrs. I. B. Marshall; Orator, J. F. Alexander; Grand Marshal, W. A. Walker; R. H. Lindsay was appointed a committee of one to arrange for a chorus. P. B. Comstock was selected to make arrangements for Car of State and see to selecting young ladies to represent the thirty-eight States. Mr. Comstock will have full charge of that business. It was decided to extend an invitation to the school children, military companies, Fire Department, and all the other organizations to join the citizens of Reno and Washoe county in the celebration. An invitation has been extended to Governor Kinkead and staff to join Reno this year. It is more than likely that the invitation will be accepted, for Governor Kinkead has never assisted Reno in anything of the kind.

The Box Sheet is now open and you want to engage seats early.

The Candelaria True Fissure has this to say about the State Fair: Nothing has yet been done this year by the directors toward holding a State Fair. It is not judicious to let time pass until they find themselves unable to attend to that important matter in a manner it is deserving of.

The last State Fair was only a partial success because it was held too late in the season. Nevada's early fall weather is usually chilly and blustery, and thus deters people from attending gatherings of any kind; or if they do attend, they vow it will be the last time. It would seem that the fair in this State could be held as early as the 29th of August and not later than the 11th of September. These dates will give ample time for parties on the California side of the mountains to bring their stock over to this State Fair and get them back to Sacramento in time for the State Fair, which will probably commence this year on the 18th of September. The objection to an early State Fair in Nevada can only be made on account of the State Fair.

In the second act the realistic love scene is inexpressibly funny, and the scene between Mr. and Mrs. Cobb, immediately after, presents a ludicrous contrast to the too-often spoiling of the lovers. Mr. Francis Wilson as Silvermine and afterwards as the villain—the blood-thirsty Baron—was excellent. He is the very imp of Mommus, and last night induced laughter that was almost suffocating. Mr. R. E. Graham takes the part of the father, and also that of Daphne, a child, who is called six years old instead of fourteen, so that
